Dear Eric:

I was surprised and disappointed when I received my latest EQM to discover that your book was not included on the Library List which was enclosed. I am taking steps to correct this error, but felt I owed you both an apology and an explanation, after the trouble you went to , helping me put together the description we planned to place therein.

You see, because of my limited skills on a computer, in the past when changes to the Library List were needed I have sent them to Steve Beare who has made the changes to the master copy he has out of kindness. Thus he has the master in his computer and I have not. Steve only occasionally uses his master copy of the list when he sends a packet of materials to a new member of ISASC, that being his job. Mass issue of the List to all members only occurs when an issue of EQM goes out, and Jan Macho takes care of that. I did not realize that Jan's staff clerk, who handles the shipping of EQM, has her own master copy of the Library List and was unaware of the change I had sent Steve. I now realize that Steve, on his part, did not understand that I thought his was the only master, and that I expected him to ship the changes to Jan. We even saw each other and talked about how to create needed space on the list for this addition without my realizing he did not plan to make the change and send it on to Jan.

As I write this owed explanation I feel more stupid with each line. Since Bob Stein stepped down as President and we divided all the chores he did alone among many there have been surprisingly few major glitches. I do regret to report that I am responsible for one.

My sincere apologies, Jerry Wilson

Jerry: Do not worry. Correct the matter next issue. Perhaps make a special announcement at the Pittsburgh meeting. Perhaps the thanking at the end of the news portion will cause some people to be curious and inquire further when they find the price and source of the book not mentioned. In any event get the list of "books for sale" amended. Eric

Dear Jerry: The probability is that I will not be in Pittsburgh for the convention as I rarely attend. I am writing an article for EQUILIBRIUM now. I will gladly send you one or two copies of the coin scale book if you wish to tote it or them but if you know any person in Pittsburgh who would hold them for you there that might be better. Thank you for your kindness. Eric

Thanks Eric,
 I have already taken the necessary steps to correct the error in the Library List, and all our other plans are on track.
 Will you be at Pittsburgh? I do hope to meet you. If you are coming maybe you can bring the copy we want for display there. Jerry

Dear Eric:

An excellent idea! I had been waiting for an exact address at the hotel to give you as a place I would request you to send your book. Such addresses always spook me a little... when I get there and ask for what they are supposed to be holding for me they invariably look vague and search around as if they had not been carefully instructed.

I will first ask permission (sure to be granted) and then request you to send a couple to Mary Anne Murphy. Do you know her? An excellent member, resident of Pittsburgh and a cohost for this convention.

Have you been paid for the first ten books? I presume you have. If not please advise.

I have already received a corrected draft of the Library List back, adding your book to our inventory. Again, thank you!

While I'm disappointed that you have no plans to attend in Pittsburgh, knowing it is not your regular habit to attend our conventions helps me understand why we have not met before.

Best personal regards, Jerry

Dear Eric:

As convention time rolls around, I am planning my usual exhibit of scale literature, to be displayed on Friday evening at our album exhibiting time. As perhaps you know, I take orders for all items on our "Library List" at that time, when buying members can look through the samples I have on display and place orders. At the end of the evening, those who ordered first take the exhibited copies with them and I take the other orders home to fill.

Of course, I want a copy of United States Coin Scales and Mechanical Counterfeit Coin Detectors on display, one from ISASC's prepaid stock. Will You please send one to the hotel for me to pick up there?

The hotel has made a special request that I not have shipments arriving too soon, pleading limited storage space. It seems clear it is in our best interest to try to have things arriving only about a week early, timed as best we can to arrive May 7, 2003?

Please address the parcel to :

Gerald Wilson
C/O Jet Garcia
ISASC Conf. 5/15-18/03
SHERATON GUNTER
205 E. Houston Street
San Antonio, Texas 78205

Of course I would hope you are coming personally, and could just carry it! Tomorrow I will send you one of our agreed upon order letters just to help us keep the record straight...

Regards, Jerry

Dear Eric:

I'm happy to report to you two things:

1. Our library List is now corrected (your book added) and will be distributed to all attendees at our Pittsburgh Convention.
2. We have our first sale.

Though I have not heard, I assume that you have received a check for the first ten books as I requested, and I understand you have shipped two to Mary Anne Murphy who will provide them to me for the convention. Now for one more: Will you please ship one to:

Eric and Judy Soslau
7301 Fireoak Drive,
Austin, TX 78759

If things are going per our plan this is the third you will have shipped out of an initial stock of ten. Thank you!

After this initial order I will design a simple order letter which I will send you each time I sell one, telling you who to mail it to, their address, and my count of how many from our stock we have sold. Then, at an appropriate time I'll have another check sent to you and so on....

Does that sound O.K. ? Regards, Jerry
